

WIN this Austin 1100

help a thalidomide child

Last year's competition was a tremendous success. We hope to do even better this year to provide further training in the use of artificial limbs for the children born deformed by the drug thalidomide. An hour or so of your time will be rewarded many thousands of times over. If you would like to help, please write to the Society for the Aid of Thalidomide Children Ltd., Lincolnshire, East Anglia & the Midlands Car Competition Office, P.O. Box No. 153, 164 Edmund Street, Birmingham 1.

Nine 'guys' at Kettering Hospital

ONE of the traditions of November 5 is the bonfire and firework display at the Kettering General Hospital. On the big bonfire which burned at the back of the children's ward last night were seven guys, surmounted by an eighth splendid creation. This was the winner of the guy competition judged yesterday afternoon by members of the hospital staff. It belonged to the telephonist department who made the winning guy the year before last. Actually there were nine guys in the contest but after the judging the guy from the x-ray unit got out of its wheelchair and walked away—it was really a heavily disguised member of the x-ray unit—Miss Elaine Grindley. Also in the running for the honour of sitting on the top of the bonfire were entries from the wages department and the Agnes Jackson ward. The contest, which was watched by children from the children's ward, was organised by Mr. G. Toseland and Mr. A. Jenkinson of the wages department. Some of the children had a special interest in the firework display because they had been allowed to write their names on the fireworks. They were David Wilson, Susan York, Wendy Spence, Stephen Lord, Stephen Yeomans, Mervyn Dedyaski, Denise Ibbitson and Henry Cannon. The fireworks display was financed by gifts and donations from the staff and staff organisations.

Most guys were burned last night. This one "came to life." At the Guy Fawkes judging competition at Kettering General Hospital Elaine Grindley (x-ray department) dressed up as a guy (above) sat among the other guys until Sister C. Hamer and Dr. J. G. Lancaster unmasked her (right)

* * * *

Bonfire incidents in London 138 arrests

AT least 138 people were arrested in London last night and early today in connection with Guy Fawkes incidents. During disturbances on Hampstead Heath, police made forty arrests and there were 98...

LET TIMPSON

TIMPSON HEEL BAR
for handy new heel tips and minor repairs

CODE