GREEN FIELDS OF KETTERING

A remarkable thing about this aerial picture of Kettering is that although much of what it shows is within a mile radius of the town centre, there's nearly as many green fields shown as there is built-up area. "Centrepiece" is Kettering General Hospital and the picture gives a good idea of how it has expanded in recent years. Further back behind the railway line is the new cattle market and in the foreground is part of the "lakes" estate.
